Job Summary:

As the Afternoon Radio Host at 94.5 ROXY FM Olympia, you will be the voice of the station during the crucial afternoon drive-time slot. Your role is to entertain, inform, and engage our audience by delivering compelling content, music, and commentary. Your passion for broadcasting, excellent communication skills, and ability to connect with the local community will be key to your success in this position.

Key Responsibilities:

On-Air Presence: Host the afternoon drive-time show, creating a captivating and entertaining experience for listeners during the weekdays. Voice Tracking as needed.

Music: Introduce tracks, artists, and share interesting insights or trivia related to the music.

Live Segments: Plan and execute engaging live segments, interviews, contests, and promotions to maintain listener interest and interactivity.

Audience Engagement: Connect with the audience through phone calls, social media, text messages, and emails. Respond to requests, dedications, and shout-outs in a personable and engaging manner.

Commentary and Conversation: Provide insightful and entertaining commentary on various topics, including current events, local news, and pop culture.

Production: Voice and Produce commercials. Copy writing skills are a plus.

Technical Proficiency: Operate studio equipment, including the control board and computer automation systems, ensuring a seamless and professional broadcast.

Commercial Integration: Seamlessly incorporate promotional messages and advertisements while maintaining the flow and energy of the show, adhering to station guidelines and sponsor agreements.

Collaboration: Collaborate with the station's program director, promotions team, and fellow on-air talent to create cohesive and successful programming.

Community Involvement: Act as a station ambassador by participating in station events, remotes, and community outreach initiatives to build a strong connection with the local audience and promote the station.

Qualifications:

Previous experience as a radio host or on-air personality is preferred. Reliable with a flexible schedule, available to workdays, nights, weekends and possibly holidays. Strong knowledge of music genres and industry trends. Excellent verbal communication and public speaking skills. Charismatic and engaging on-air presence. Ability to think on your feet, improvise, and adapt to changing situations. Familiarity with broadcasting equipment and software. Proficiency in social media for interacting with the audience online. Understanding of FCC regulations and broadcasting standards.
